The Election To-Day.

Two time for argument has almost passed, and to-day is the time for action. To-day will de-cide whether there are enough citizens in New York possessing the honor, manliness, and intel-York possessing the honor, mantiness, and mea-ligence to save it from the diagrace of having a motorisasiy bad man chosen to the edite of Chief Magistrate. To-day will decide whether the tyranny of party is so strong in this city that it can drive men to the polls to vote against the convictions of their own consciences. This day will decide also whether corrupt political com-bination can triumph here ever honcety, capaoffy and an antarnished public and private re-

If every citizen who believes in his heart that WE. F. HAVEMETER is the most competent and the worthiest man in nomination for Mayor, will go to the polls and east his vote honestly and fearlessly, Mr. HAVEMETER will be elected by an immense majority. We cannot doubt of good government omit no effort to swell his rote. Let them work from sun-rise to tun-set, and the character of the city will be triamphantly vindicated.

Men of New York, do yourselves credit by your action to-day. Let it not be said of you that you are indifferent to the peace and welfare of the city. Let it not be said that you failed to the discharge of your duty as good citizers. An earnest, hearry and determined effort will give you a triumph of which you will be proud ever afterwards. It will make Mr. HAVEMETme the next Mayor of New York.

Beware of False Rumors.

Ir is known that the agents of Wood, trainer in his school of trickery, have concocted various false reports, to be set affoat to day around the polls, for the purpose of drawing away votes from Mr. HAVEMEYER. One of their "Roorbacks" will be, that Mr. HAVAMEYER has withdrawn, and that the race is between Wood and OPDIKE. The WOOD men don't fear OPDIKE; but they do fear HAVEMEYER. They knew that nothing but treachery, lying and fraud can do feat his election, and to these arts they will resort as they have already resorted, without scruole.

Voters, be on your guard. FERNANDO's game has become desperate, and one day's zealons work for WM P. HAVEMEYER will upset the schemes of those who have banded together to break down all the barriers which protect the City Treasury from their greedy hands.

Like the Man.

Wz were shown last evening some of the tickets said to have been issued yesterday by thousands from FERNANDO WOOD's private Committee room. On these tickets the name of the Republican candidate for Corporation Counsel is substituted for that of GREENE C. BRON sor. This shows the secret compact with the Republican wire-pullers. OPDYKE is to be sold out on one side and Mr. BRONSON on the other-Let honest citizens defeat the bargain by voting for HAVEMETER and TILLEN.

Threats of Violence.

TREBATS have been made in various parts of the city by Woop's bullles that they will smash the HAVEMETER boxes and destroy his tickets. They had better not attempt violence, for, if they do, they will find that the law is still strong enough to punish them.

It was also reported last evening that an ganized gang would probably be sent out during the night to cut down the HAVEMEYER banners. The discovery of the plot, however, may prevent its execution.

Don't Fear the Weather.

RAIN or shine, we hope voters will go to th polls to-day and discharge their duty. A full vote will elect Mr. HAVAMETER.

American Visitors in Florence.

The Florence correspondent of the Providence Journal writes, on 15th of November:

The number of American visitors now in Florence is quite as large as usual. Reckoning the permanent colonists, the whole number cannot fall much short of three hundred. Mrs. Srows, the novelist, is established hers for the remainder of the autuan and a portion of the winter, surrounded by a chele of friends. Mr. Srockfor, our Minister to Rome, with his family, still remains here. The family of Mr. James E. Coolar, of New York, at their temporary home in the Prescobaldi Palace, at their weekly con versationi, are disponsing their hospitalities to large numbers of their countrymen, with quiet elegance and dignity. Mr. Charles Prantes, of B ston, is engaged in writing a history of Medieval Sculpture. Mr. Jahves, of the same city, is making good progress with his work upon the art of painting in the same period. Mr. Jahves' collection of pictures is increasing, and will be ready to be sent to American ext year, when his book will be published. The family of Mr. Kirsaw, formerly our representative at Turin, continues to reside in Florence, and is the centre of an intelligent circle. As usual, Boston is more largely represented than any other American city. American Visitore in Florence.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Boston Post in speaking of Laving's funeral, said: Although the day appointed was a dull and cloudy one, for the most part, yet at the moment when the corpse reached its temporary resting place at the chancel of Christ Church, a brilliant sun-ray shot from the beavens athwart the church, and rested for a moment upon the coffin. The sunbeam than withdrew, and all was dark again. This incident seemed to me to be a poem in itself—it certainly affords the theme for one.

for our chief municipal offices, and also that the Democratic party of this city should be metalized in its interity and power; we respectually urge epon you to

as to raffect descredit on the Democratic party tract, waste found to be so growsly and publishy corrapt as to raffect discredit on the Democratic party and to require the intervention of Grand Juries of our city and county.

The foregoing are general considerations, coming home to every member of our party; but as an attempt is being made to array our adopted citizens of Irish birth as mere personal adharents of Mr. Wood, we fee called ur ou to briefly address you with reference to the considerations involved in this assumption.

Satisfactory evidence axis to that Mr. Wood is in atlance with the Know Wohings and the corrupt politicians of the Black Republican party. As late as last Wedneeday evening he occupied his seat at the Council Board of a Know Nothing Lodge. Thus, while pretending to be a Democrat, he is the sworn supporter of Native Americanism, taking the odious oaths of that order to procerible Catholics and all citizens whe are not native born; and yet our adopted citizens are saked to give their votes to secure his election! He is as much without principle in his public as his private life. He cannot be trusted in either relation.

The Democratic party has ever been the faithful champlon and guardian of the rights of all adopted citizens, and the upholder of civil and religious liberty against all aggressions.

Mr. Havenneyer is now the only candidate for the Mayoraity presented by this party for the suffrages of its constituency. When in office herectofore, he not only preved himself a good officer, but the faithful and active friend, to every just extent, of our adopted citizens. No man can be found who can say with truth, that his claims were ever diaregarded by Mr. Havenneyer on account of country or creed.

and active friend, to every just extent, of our adopted citizens. No man can be found who can say with truth, that his claims were ever disregarded by Mr. Havemeyer on account of country or creed. The organization of party is an indispensable ele-ment of success. Without discipline, party power is lost and wholly ineffectual. He who stracks this mainsping of its strength, is an enemy myer danger-ous was all open fees who fairly take the field against it. Mr. Woed now occupies this position as a disor-ganizer, and deserves the opposition of every Demo-ganiser, and deserves the opposition of every Democrats.

Mr. Wood's private and official character, contrasted with that of Wm. F. Havemeyer, is certainly not such as to witheraw the support of any honest man from the regular organization.

The question is therefore simply presented, whether our adopted citizens will leave the Democratic party, and injure its precise and power for future good, by following the personal aims and selfish ambitton of Mr.
Wood, now in open alliance with the Know Nothings or whether they will stand, as they have always stood, the allies and supporters of that organization with which all our traditions are connected, and which now puts forward to claim their votes the best men in our city.

puts forward to claim their votes the best men in our city.

We carnestly urge upon you, as a duty alike to your-selves and the Democratic Farty, to use your most gealous exertions to secure the election of William F. Havemeyer, Sanuel J. Tilden, and Patrick McRiroy, New York Syth Nov., 1889.
